These fees are assessed only to cover the cost of materials. Prices for materials are subject to change; a list of current prices will be posted in the Makerspace.

Payment for all materials must be made at the front desk of the Library by cash, check, or card. Users may be required to pay for particularly large or expensive projects before starting their project. Failure to pay for materials may result in users being disallowed from using the space. The Library will not offer refunds for materials purchased.

Makers may also use their own materials, subject to staff approval.

The Library also welcomes donations of materials but reserves the right not to accept donations that cannot be used and to remove donations that are no longer useful.
